Dear Families,

What a crazy and fast week with the letter Nn. We didn't have time for a few activities, but hopefully we will be able to squeeze those in during the next couple of weeks! The students enjoyed our Santa tearing paper project (most of it!), as well as the dancing noodle experiment we did :) We also wrapped up Chapter 4. I will get the tests back to you on Monday.

Next week we will be working on the letter Rr. We will be working on teaching the correct sound; Students should be saying the 'ruh' sound, instead of the 'er' sound, as this causes difficulty in their reading later on. The students will be able to explain more as we get going next week. Popcorn word will also start to be assessed. In art, we will complete some December projects, as well as starting our Addition chapter in Math. This is a chapter that students work really hard on!

I hope you have a great weekend! Please contact me with any questions or concerns. -Mrs. Zenk
